

DIEGO ORIZABA

My art project is made to resemble my favorite character from the X-Men, Cyclops, a character that resonates with me deeply and is an inspiration to me. I used a multitude of lines from different pictures I have taken, used a picture with red lighting to add value to the skin tone. The red background is for contrast, and I used repetition with black lines at the bottom to add shadow.